Dribble CHC Social Newsletter

Hi all,

Welcome to the first edition of Dribble. CHC's Social Newsletter!! If there is anything you want posted next month please let me know. This newsletter will be posted every month on the website and will give information on all upcoming socials, any scandals from the previous socials and any other social notices.

October Notices:

- Congratulation to newlyweds Sarah Thompson (nee Walker) and Richie Thompson. We wish you every success.
- Congratulations to Lorna Conn (Treasurer) and Geoff Conn (Grounds) on their new little boy – Oliver (Ollie). The boys could use some new blood.
- Congratulations to Hannah and Pdraigh Donnelly on their little girl Jaime and Ado and Amy Missen on their little girl Rebecca. We hope to see them up at fitness very soon.
- Well done to Ailbhe Marsh, Sarah Quill and Jenny Long on their excellent performances at the U16's and U18's Interprovincials in Belfast earlier in the month. All girls were selected to continue on to Irish development trials. We are all very proud of you.

November Social:

The November Social will take place on the 5th of the month. We will be meeting in the Well at around 9pm. We can get a couple of drinks there before getting the Bus to Leisureplex. Yes....We are going BYOB Bowling!! Numbers will need to be confirmed prior to the Saturday....so text me, call me, (0871357720), email me (sarah.murtagh@ucd.ie), call into the house, catch me at training, send me a pigeon...However you do it....Please let me know if your going to make so I can make arrangements for you. We should finish up around 12pm. If you have yet to have your first fines session this would be a great night to do it. Its cheap (only costs 20 euro), you can bring your own booze, Sara Smith has kindly offered us a few boxes of Cobra beer and we're going to be Bowling – All in all you can't get much better!!

October Social

Firstly thanks to all who turned up for the first social of the season. It was a fantastic night and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. In case you were unlucky enough to miss it....CHC men were victorious in the end, winning on the third round of penalty strokes (boat races). Sutts and Ross Murray took it home for the boys, while mentions must go to Susie Geoffroy and Orla O'Riordan for going up and beyond the call of duty for the girls. The results of the rounds are as follows:

1. Boat Race – Boys won!
2. Quiz Round – Sport Questions – Ladies won! There was a little mud slinging with the boys accusing the girls of cheating, however umpires over-ruled and the ladies secured the point with a comfortable 7-4 win.
3. Pie Decorating Competition – Dave Harks and Ross Murray stepped up for the boys, while Shona Browne and Georgie Fagan were nominated by the girls. Harks created a CHC inspired Cake, which was iced with the crest and the words 'Come on the reds' while Shona went for a more chaotic approach, scraping red and black icing across the cake in a very random fashion. Judge Sean Murtagh unsurprisingly awarded the cake to homemaker Harks defending his decision by saying 'Ladies, when you elect a female President you can win'. Point to the men!!
4. Button Round – This game consisted of 1 partner sticking as many chocolate buttons to their partners face. The winning team was the one with the most buttons stuck to their face after 30 second. Sarah Walker and Susie Geoffroy were nominated from the ladies, while our Kiwi Lloyd and Karl Smith were representing for the men. Susie and Walks were deemed victorious by the bar maid, Aisling who was quoted as saying 'When you get a male bar man you can win', Point to Girls!! You can't get a fair umpire anywhere these days!!
5. Quiz Round – Entertainment – Ladies win! Men complain again about cheating even though Carsy apparently knows more about Glee than a 14 year old teenage girl and Alan Blenner sites the Kardashians as his favourite program. No doubt the ladies would like to mention at this stage that they infact won the sports round...
6. Flip Cup- The closest game of the night- CHC Men win out with only seconds to spare. Notable mentions must go to both Sophie Blenner and Henry Micks for their efforts. And also to Walker for her inability to actually stay up right to drink the pint, luckily reinforcements were close by for this element of the competition!
7. Tasting Competition – Representing the ladies was Walker and Lisa Carey while the Men got the big guns out, nominating Moose and Sean Stewart. Walker and Lisa finished all the foods they selected although, selecting items like prunes in juice and mackerel in spicy mustard. Moose and Sean were lucky enough to sample the tastier foods, choosing chocolate and strawberry yogurts. The pair entertained themselves by feeding each other and throwing air kisses. It was noted afterward how cute a couple they make and how lucky they are to be so in love after so many years. In the end it was deemed a draw.
8. Pass the Cucumber – Participants were asked to pass their cucumber around the room to members of their sex and count how many people they passed it to in 2 minutes. The catch was that they can't use their hand. The women won by 6 passes. The men argued that the women had a

- bigger cucumber and that size mattered! The ladies agreed but the point still stood.
9. CHC Quiz: The final Round. 10 questions on CHC members. It was a tense battle with teams contesting answers from the beginning. Controversy was caused when the men responded zero to the question 'How many goals has our international David Carsons scored for Ireland?' The ladies disputed this and said that given Carsons's caps and the fact that he such a prolific goal scorer, he must have scored more. Carsons himself was called up to the mike to call a stop to the argument...admitting that he has never scored for Ireland. Carsons was found later in the men's loos sobbing!!
- The questions ranged from name 3 CHC babies born in the last year to name who Billy is married to? The quiz round finished in a draw. In true CHC fashion it was decided that a boat race was the only true way to decide who was CHC's superior sex. Orla and her protégé Sophie Blenner took on Sutts and Ross (if your wondering why we did a boat race with only 2 a side it was because all the boys were too afraid to take on Orla). While there were milliseconds in it – the boys were deemed to have won by the very unbiased President – (Ladies we know who really won)

Ps: If you are a man in the club upset by the way in which this evening has been reported....Well I suggest you get a male social secretary next year!!
